Child Protection Reporting Policy

16th August 2017

REVIEW DATE: 2020

PURPOSE:

- 1.1 To ensure school staff are aware of their roles and responsibilities in protecting the safety and wellbeing of children and young people and are able to:
- understand their various legal obligations to report and take other reasonable steps to discharge the duty of care that may be owed to the child or young person
 - identify indicators that a child or young person has been, is being, or is at risk of being abused
 - make a report about a child or young person who has been, is being, or is at risk of being abused.

GUIDELINES:

Reporting obligations

- 2.1 The following information summarises the mandatory and other reporting obligations where there is a concern that a child or young person has been, is being, or is at risk of being abused:

Type of reporting	Obligation
Mandatory reporting Note: the following professionals are considered mandatory reporters: Teachers registered to teach or who have permission to teach pursuant to the Education and Training Reform Act 2006 (Vic) Principals of government and non-government schools Registered medical practitioners, nurses and all members of the police force	Mandatory reporters must make a report to the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) (Child Protection) as soon as practicable if, in the course of practising their profession or carrying out their duties, they form reasonable belief that a child or young person is in need of protection, as a result of physical injury or sexual abuse, and the child's parents are unable or unwilling to protect the child from that abuse. A mandatory reporter who fails to comply with these reporting obligations may be committing a criminal offence.
Failure to disclose	All adults, not just professionals who work with children, have a legal obligation to report to Victoria Police where they form a reasonable belief that a sexual offence has been committed by an adult against a child under the age of 16. Failure to disclose the information may amount to a criminal offence unless you have a "reasonable excuse" or have an "exemption" from doing so.
Failure to Protect	Any staff member in a position of authority, who becomes aware that an adult associated with their organisation (such as an employee, contractor, volunteer or visitor) poses a risk of sexual abuse to a child under the care, authority or supervision of the organisation, must take all reasonable steps to remove or reduce that risk. This may include, for example, removing the adult from child-related work pending investigation. If a

2.2 The table below describes other reporting obligations.

Type of reporting	Obligation
Child in need of protection	Any person can make a report to DHHS Child Protection if they believe on reasonable grounds that a child is in need of protection for any of the following reasons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the child has suffered or is likely to suffer significant harm as a result of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ physical injury and their parents are unable or unwilling to protect the child ○ sexual abuse and their parents are unable or unwilling to protect the child ○ emotional or psychological harm and their parents are unable or unwilling to protect the child. • the child has been abandoned and there is no other suitable person who is willing and able to care for the child. • the child's parents are dead or incapacitated and there is no other suitable person who is willing and able to care for the child. • the child's physical development or health has been, or is likely to be significantly harmed and the parents are unable or unwilling to provide basic care, or effective medical or other remedial care. Department policy requires all staff who form a belief on reasonable grounds that a child or young person is in need of protection to report their concerns to DHHS Child Protection or Victoria Police. In the case of school staff, they must also discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.
Child in need of therapeutic treatment	Any person who believes on reasonable grounds that a child over 10 but under 15 years of age has been exhibiting sexually abusive behaviours and may be in need of therapeutic treatment should make a report to DHHS Child Protection. Sexually abusive behaviours can be exhibited when a child uses their power, authority or status to engage another person in sexual activity that is unwanted, or where the other party is incapable of giving informed consent (such as other children who are younger or who have cognitive impairments).

ARPS POLICY

	In the case of student sexual offending, Department policy requires staff to also report to the Victoria Police. In the case of school staff, they must also discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.
Significant concerns for the wellbeing of a child	Any person who has a significant concern for the wellbeing of a child should report these concerns to DHHS Child Protection, or refer the child and their family to Child FIRST. A significant concern for the wellbeing of a child may arise, for instance, where any of the following factors may have a significant adverse impact on a child's care, welfare or development: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • family conflict or family breakdown • significant parenting problems • pressure due to a family member's physical/mental illness, substance abuse, or disability • vulnerability due to youth, isolation or lack of support • significant social or economic disadvantage. In the case of school staff, they must also discuss their concerns with the principal or a member of the school leadership team.

Additional legal obligations

2.3 In addition to the mandatory reporting and other reporting obligations mentioned above, all school staff have duty of care obligations and obligations arising out of the Child Safe Standards. The table below contains information about these obligations.

Obligation	Description
Duty of care	All school staff have a duty of care to take reasonable steps to prevent reasonably foreseeable injury to children and young people under the care. This includes taking reasonable steps to protect their safety, health and wellbeing. In the case of a child who may be in need of protection or therapeutic treatment, or where there are significant concerns about the wellbeing of a child, reasonable steps may include (but are not necessarily limited to): <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • acting on concerns and suspicions of abuse as soon as practicable • seeking appropriate advice or consulting with other professionals or agencies when the school staff member is unsure of what steps to take • reporting the suspected child abuse to appropriate authorities such as Victoria Police and DHHS Child Protection • arranging counselling and/or other appropriate welfare support for the child • providing ongoing support to the child and young person – this may include attending DHHS Child Protection Case Planning meetings, and convening

	regular Student Support Group meetings <ul style="list-style-type: none">• sharing information with other school based staff who will also be responsible for monitoring and providing ongoing support to the child or young person.
Child Safe Standards	The Child Safe Standards are compulsory minimum standards for all Victorian early childhood services and schools to ensure they are well prepared to protect children from abuse and neglect. The Standards support all Victorian early childhood services and schools to embed a culture of no tolerance for child abuse but, where necessary, to respond appropriately to actual or suspected abuse.

- 2.4 All Albany Rise Primary School staff are reminded about their Mandatory reporting and Duty of Care responsibilities upon induction.
- 2.5 Records of all reports are confidentially stored at the school. A proforma is used to maintain reporting records.

ARPS POLICY

PROTECT

Everyone has the right to be safe and be protected from abuse.

No one should behave in a way that makes you feel unsafe or afraid, including anyone in your family, anyone at school or anywhere else in the community.

Tell a teacher or any adult at your school if you feel unsafe.

It's everyone's responsibility.

Adults at school must listen and respond to concerns about child abuse.

If you suspect abuse of any child or young person, you have a responsibility to report it, even if you are not sure.
